

Duke Office of Information Technology

The Office of Information Technology (OIT) offers both free pre-scheduled Technology Seminars and OnDemand Training to support Duke Academic needs. Information about each of these services is listed below.

Free Technology Seminars

The Office of Information Technology (OIT) provides a free series of seminars on a variety of information technology topics. All seminars are free of charge and open to Duke students, staff and faculty.

Read our Free Technology Training seminar policies page for participant guidelines, cancellation and wait list information.

To register for a seminar, log into our online registration page.

Do you want to be notified when the spring 2008 schedule is posted online? Subscribe to our new OIT Training Announce listserv <https://lists.duke.edu/sympa/subscribe/oit-training-announce> . Announcements may include new and upcoming seminars, training events and online resources.

OnDemand Training

OnDemand Training allows Duke staff, faculty and student groups to provide their group with just-in-time technology training. Our technology training coordinator will work with you to schedule a training session that meets your group or course needs.

Visit our OnDemand Training Page for information and guidelines.

To request a training session, complete our OnDemand Training Request Form.
