

Duke Office of Information Technology

IT Security

The University Information Technology Security Office serves the academic and administrative portions of University by assisting in education, providing security information and services, and acting as the contact point for IT security and abuse issues.

Current IT Security Threats

- ? Protecting yourself against viruses, worms, and other malware
- ? Hacker FAQ - a user perspective
- ? Understanding "Phishing" attacks and identity theft

Older and Ongoing IT Security Threats

- ? Password security
- ? Disabling Windows Messenger SPAM
- ? Physical security for laptops
- ? Copyright FAQ

Protecting your Identity and Credit

- ? Protecting your Credit Card online
- ? Protecting your Social Security Number

Duke Office of Information Technology - www.oit.duke.edu - (919) 684-2200 - help@oit.duke.edu